

“Jazzin Thru The Years” is a music education series presented by Project Natale that takes you on a musical journey thru the evolution of JAZZ.

PROJECT NATALE is a band of brothers playing brotherly music, which has gained world respect as JAZZ players infusing the old and new, creating a sonification of their own.

Brothers Joe and Lou Natale formed the group upon arriving to the D.C. area in 1998. Over the subsequent decade, a musical collaboration was struck when JAZZ legends Carl Cornwell (Tenor Saxophone) and Bob Butta (Pianist) found a home as regular performers with...The Project.

What better way to learn about JAZZ than directly from musicians who have spent a lifetime studying and performing it?

“Jazzin Thru The Years” is a three part educational series that incorporates live presentations that enhance learning and create an enjoyable atmosphere as PROJECT NATALE delivers high impact demonstrations.

- Part 1: Jazz Beginnings, 1920-1950
- Part 2: Jazz Development, 1950-1970
- Part 3: Infusion, 1970-today!

Each period will use five compositions to demonstrate “Jazzin Thru The Years,” with the first composition opening up to that time period’s style and artist. As the program progresses, the group of students will be asked to participate by singing, clapping and playing percussion instruments, as well as interact by dancing. Basic elements of music, such as; song writing and live performances will be discussed.

Your group may schedule your series for your classroom, theater, library or community center. The program is beneficial and enjoyable for all ages. It is highly recommended you chose the series in its entirety to achieve the most benefit. You may schedule “Jazzin Thru The Years” weekly, monthly or quarterly.
